PROFESSIONAL PROFILE:

Assistant Dean- In collaboration with the Dean of the School of Communication, I create, coordinate, and facilitate innovative pedagogy and faculty development programs that promote breakthrough research and creative activities responsive to the university's urban setting.

KTSU2 Co-coordinator - Coordinate multimedia news, sports and public affairs programming in a student-centered, comprehensive training laboratory for undergraduate and graduate students to gain requisite, hands-on skills in multimodalities that prepare them to compete in a technology driven society as engaged citizens and innovative leaders. Created the multimedia components after years of extensive research. It is the only operation of its kind on a university campus.

Academic and Social Justice Strategist – Developed curricula, policy, programs for the Urban Research and Resource Center's Anthony Graves Smart Justice Speaker's Bureau; HB#2116 and SB#1746 passed in the Texas Legislature in 2019 addressing youth and intergeneration incarceration; served as writer, researcher and media liaison of the Center for the Development and Study of Effective Pedagogy for African American Learners, a center dedicated to creating effective pedagogy for Black and underserved students.

Comcast: Freedom Ride to Houston documentary collaborator: This Telly Award-winning documentary focused on Texas Southern University and California students' courageous efforts to desegregate public transportation in Houston and nationwide.

Historic Black History Month Partnership with KPRC2 Executive Producer- Groundbreaking project that has Texas Southern University School of Communication students produce stories on Houston's Black history in February for all KPRC2's [NBC affiliate] platforms.

Digital Innovator – created the first digital (social) media correspondents' team on a college campus in the U.S.; mobile, multimedia video, content creator.

Journalist and Researcher – Houston Civil Rights movement, 1960; HBCU sit-ins; Black women's history; innovative storytelling; mobile reporting; Black Press; multimedia innovation; curriculum development for urban and rural communities.

Social Media Doctor at Columbia University's Graduate School of Journalism in New York City; show journalists and educators how to use innovation in social media reporting, educational engagement tool.

NBCU Academy – Program navigator for the NBCU Academy program at TSU designed to cultivate a dynamic core of next-generation journalists.

Center for Journalism and Democracy – Collaborate with Pulitzer Prize-winning journalist Nikole Hannah-Jones' center at Howard University to foster pro-democracy and investigative journalism programs at HBCUs like TSU to develop a new generation of outstanding journalists.

Founding member of the National Association of Black Journalists Digital Journalism Task Force (DJTF), Past Vice President of Education Policy, Innovations Contributor – A group that develops, presents and shares the latest digital innovations to its members and the global community.

Project: Silencing Houston's Jim Crow – Silencing Houston's Jim Crow is a compelling new media project that explores how several brave Texas Southern University students tore down the walls of segregation in Houston, Texas from 1960 to 1963. This gripping tale documents the first sit-in in Houston on March 4, 1960 and features interviews with three of the students and original footage. The story was produced for an Internet based audience and has interactive features to engage the viewer. It is the story of the civil rights' movement's unsung heroes. It adds an important voice to the nation's civil rights' story.
